

For the tenth year running, the Great Lakes Folk Festival is brought to you by the MSU Museum, its affiliates and sponsors. We would like to thank everyone who has helped us organize this year's festival and we would especially like to recognize the students and interns who have given their time, energy and enthusiasm to bring this event to life. They have worked in a variety of areas, including folk arts education programs, operations and administration, and marketing-communications, to help produce this large-scale community event and traditional arts showcase.

We would like to thank:
